

PCN 2024 - Primate Cognitive Neuroscience Summer School 2024

July 28 – August 09, 2024, in Bad Bevensen, Germany for PhD students and early postdocs working in Primate Systems Neurophysiology
Application Deadline: May 5, 2024

This third instantiation of the newly established European Summer School will bring together PhD students, early postdocs, and an international list of faculty for an intense training programme in primate cognitive and systems neuroscience. It will provide an outstanding training opportunity for young scientists working with non-human primates.

Teaching will focus on cognitive processes in primate sensory and motor systems as well as in social settings and decision making, and will include important and novel results and methodologies. Topics of animal welfare, ethics, and media outreach will also be covered. Each faculty member will teach for about one half-day and furthermore will be available for individual scientific discussions, career planning advice, and scientific networking. Participants are expected to present their ongoing work in a poster presentation.

Selection of applicants is competitive, and a limited number of travel grants is available for international participants.

Confirmed faculty (more pending)

- Raymundo Báez-Mendoza, German Primate Center
- Paul Cisek, University of Montréal
- Alexander Gail, German Primate Center
- Suliann Ben Hamed, Institut des Sciences Cognitives
- Kari L. Hoffman, Vanderbilt University
- Igor Kagan, German Primate Center
- Richard Krauzlis, National Institutes of Health
- Andreas Kreiter, University of Bremen
- Kristine Krug, University of Magdeburg
- Emily Oby, University of Pittsburgh
- Andrew Pruszynski, University of Western Ontario
- Hansjörg Scherberger, German Primate Center
- Caspar Schwiedrzik, University of Göttingen
- Peter Thier, University of Tübingen
- Stefan Treue, German Primate Center
- Melanie Wilke, University of Göttingen

Further Information & Application

Website: www.dpz.eu/pcn2024

Participation fee: 1000 Euro

For international applicants: limited travel grants available

Contact: GTPN@dpz.eu

Organizers

Hans Scherberger
Stefan Treue
Alexander Gail
Igor Kagan
Ray Báez-Mendoza